July 2006

Volume 15, Issue 7

From the President's Desk:

Norm Schklar WA4ZXV

Some of us are just crazy enough to measure our summers from Field Day to Field Day. My first experience with GARS was Field Day several years past. I had not yet joined the club or attended any meetings, but I wanted to do something for Field Day, and John Fearon, W4KKP, had called to welcome me to the Atlanta area Ham world and tell me about GARS. He found my name on one of the recently relocated call sign lists.

I went out on Saturday morning thinking that it would take a while to get Field Day set up, and I'm much more interested in making things work than working them. There was plenty to do. Just like this year, David, KA4KKF was pointing and yelling where the antennas would be located, Eddie, wd4jem, was organizing the ladder tower crew and explaining how to handle rope and cable without tangling or kinking. No one knew my name, I'm not sure I even had a hat or badge with my name on it. But the "hey you" worked. I was so much in the way that they couldn't help but use some of my energy. I won't call it help, because I'm sure I wasn't doing it the same as "last year". No one seemed to get mad, and everything went together. I wasn't assigned to work anywhere, so I floated between stations helping log. It seems I spent more time with Dan, KF4YSU, than anyone else, but I did move around. Ron, WE5O, needed some help, I had not copied CW for over 30 years. He read out the call sign, section and class, and I wrote them down. The bug got me, and that's when I started relearning CW. Sometime late in the evening, I thought I better get home and tell the XYL what I had been up to. I explained what I had been doing, cleaned up, gathered a quilt and chair, and headed back out to the site. It seems we worked CW and PSK31 most of the night. I don't have any idea what the score was, but it seemed everyone was pleased. We started packing up, taking down antennas and getting equipment back where it belonged. The next meeting I joined GARS.

This years Field Day – The Year of the Duck – was just as much, or more fun, than my first GARS Field Day. It takes a lot of you a lot of effort to make it a success. Special thanks to the Chairperson, Dick, N9SXJ.

Remember, what helps make possible the equipment and meals at Field Day is our primary fund raiser. That's right, working the parking lot at the dog show late in August. It's a lot of work, but it's a lot easier than a bunch of small fund raising projects.

Tech-Fest isn't all that far away. So be thinking of what you would like see, and send your thoughts to Ray, KI4GRJ.

I'm writing this note on July 4th from my son's home in Denver. So you can guess that I'm having a great holiday. I hope each of you enjoy the holiday as much as my family. I look forward to seeing you at the next meeting.

."The Star Spangled Banner"

The Defense of Fort McHenry
by Francis Scott Key
20 September 1814

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, now conceals, now discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner! O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wiped out their foul footstep's pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

History of the Flag

The United States Flag is the third oldest of the National Standards of the world; older than the Union Jack of Britain or the Tricolor of France.

The flag was first authorized by Congress June 14, 1777. This date is now observed as Flag Day throughout America.

The flag was first flown from Fort Stanwix, on the site of the present city of Rome, New York, on August 3, 1777. It was first under fire for three days later in the Battle of Oriskany, August 6, 1777.

It was first decreed that there should be a star and a stripe for each state, making thirteen of both; for the states at the time had just been erected from the original thirteen colonies.

The colors of the Flag may be thus explained: The red is for valor, zeal and fervency; the white for hope purity, cleanliness of life, and rectitude of conduct; the blue, the color of heaven, for reverence to God, loyalty, sincerity, justice and truth.

The star (an ancient symbol of India, Persia and Egypt) symbolized dominion and sovereignty, as well as lofty aspirations. The constellation of the stars within the union, one star for each state, is emblematic of our Federal Constitution, which reserves to the States their individual sovereignty except as to rights delegated by them to the Federal Government.

The symbolism of the Flag was thus interpreted by Washington: "We take the stars from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing Liberty."

In 1791, Vermont, and in 1792, Kentucky were admitted to the Union and the number of stars and stripes was raised to fifteen in correspondence. As other states came into the Union it became evident there would be too many stripes. So in 1818 Congress enacted that the number of stripes be reduced and restricted henceforth to thirteen representing the thirteen original states; while a star should be added for each succeeding state. That law is the law of today.

The name "Old Glory" was given to our National Flag August 10, 1831, by Captain William Driver of the brig Charles Doggett.

The Flag was first carried in battle at the Brandywine, September 11, 1777. It first flew over foreign territory January 28, 1778, at Nassau, Bahama Islands; Fort Nassau having been captured by the American in the course of the war for independence. The first foreign salute to the flag was rendered by the french admiral LaMotte Piquet, off Quiberon Bay, February 13, 1778.

The United States Flag is unique in the deep and noble significance of its message to the entire world, a message of national independence, of individual liberty, of idealism, of patriotism.

It symbolizes national independence and popular sovereignty. It is not the Flag of a reigning family or royal house, but of 205 million free people welded into a Nation, one and inseparable, united not only by community of interest, but by vital unity of sentiment and purpose; a Nation distinguished for the clear individual conception of its citizens alike of their duties and their privileges, their obligations and their rights.

It incarnates for all mankind the spirit of Liberty and the glorious ideal of human Freedom; not the freedom of unrestraint or the liberty of license, but an unique ideal of equal opportunity for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, safeguarded by the stern and lofty principles of duty, of righteousness and of justice, and attainable by obedience to self-imposed laws.

Floating from lofty pinnacle of American Idealism, it is a beacon of enduring hope, like the famous Bartholdi Statue of Liberty enlightening the World to the oppressed of all lands. It floats over a wondrous assemblage of people from every racial stock of the earth whose united hearts constitute an indivisible and invincible force for the defense and succor of the downtrodden.

It embodies the essence of patriotism. Its spirit is the spirit of the American nation. Its history is the history of the American people. Emblazoned upon its folds in letters of living light are the names and fame of our heroic dead, the Fathers of the Republic who devoted upon its altars their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. Twice told tales of National honor and glory cluster thickly about it. Ever victorious, it has emerged triumphant from eight great National conflicts. It flew at Saratoga, at Yorktown, at Palo Alto, at Gettysburg, at Minala bay, at Chateau-Thierry, at Iwo Jima. It bears witness to the immense expansion of our national boundaries, the development of our natural resources, and the splendid structure of our civilization. It prophesies the triumph of popular government, of civic and religious liberty and of national righteousness throughout the world.

The flag first rose over thirteen states along the Atlantic seaboard, with a population of some three million people. Today it flies over fifty states, extending across the continent, and over great islands of the two oceans; and two hundred and five million owe it allegiance. It has been brought to this proud position by love and sacrifice. Citizens have advanced it and heroes have died for it. It is the sign made visible of the strong spirit that has brought liberty and prosperity to the people of America. It is the flag of all us alike. Let us accord it honor and loyalty.

--> WHAT ARE EXTENSIONS? THEY ADD MORE FEATURES TO FIREFOX!

Tamara in Chicago recently switched to Firefox. She noticed that its site offers extensions. She wants to know what these do.

Well, Tamara, Firefox is an open source browser. This means developers can view the code and make improvements to it. They write extensions that are designed to improve your surfing experience.

For example, some extensions will let you download everything on a page. Others will display weather conditions. There's even one that opens an Internet Explorer window within Firefox, when you must use IE.

There are literally hundreds of extensions. Any Firefox user is bound to find at least one that is useful. For more on extensions, including
